DETAILED ACTION

Inventorship

1. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Engl (US 6,065,446).

Regarding claim 1, the reference of Engl et al discloses the method for controlling an internal combustion engine including the following subject matters:

compensating in steady-state torque losses in an overrun and in an acceleration operation of the drive unit (see abstract; col. 4, lines 34-63; and col. 6, lines 35-56);

weighting a steady-state compensation of the torque losses by a first weighting factor in overrun operation (col. 6, lines 7-34); and linearly raising the first weighting factor when a drag torque decreases in amount, until acceleration operation is reached (above discussions; Fig. 4; and col. 5, lines 10-48).

Art Unit: 3747

Regarding claims 2-21, as discussed in claim 1, and see the present invention for further information.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Denz et al (US 6,799,113 B2).
